

Coach Hernando announces acting camp in Cary, North Carolina

Contributed by Start Thinking
Thursday, 21 May 2009
Last Updated Thursday, 28 May 2009

The "Rising Stars" Acting camp hosted by veteran acting coach Hernando Planells is a unique experience that is devoted on providing students an experience in being in front of the camera, acting on a commercial or hosting a show on Nickelodeon. The camp offers a hands on approach which gives students the opportunity to develop their creative skills.

Download flyer here

On Camera Acting Workshop

Being in front of the camera can be an unnerving feeling that can lead to a poor audition. Comfortability and having good camera presence are the essentials when breaking into acting.

This workshop will introduce the on-camera acting process, helps deal with the nerves, gives kids and parents an affordable way to evaluate their level of interest and commitment and from the start they will get to work on-camera and see their performance right away!

Television Commercial Workshop

Everytime you watch your favorite program there are countless commercials that cut in between the scenes. Commercial agents are always looking for new talent who can be the next cute face for a product.

The workshop includes on camera instruction with cue cards, product handling, blocking and hitting the mark, interviews and commercial scenes

Television Host Workshop

The entertainment world has a strong demand for skilled On-Air Televisions Hosts. TV hosts can make or break a TV show that is trying to gain an audience.

This workshops will improve your audition, one on one interviewing skills, co-hosting skills and timing asn well as working with cue cards

Headshot and Resume Building

Great headshots is the key to grabbing a talent agents eye. Capturing the "look" in a photo within 5 seconds depends on polished posing skills

This workshop will work on your posing skills, indoor and outdoor with tips on Hair and Make up and clothing choices

Registration to Talent Database

Automatic registration to our talent database that is sent to talent agencies in Los Angeles. Normally a $40 fee, this service is free for our camp attendees.

To recieve more information please email us at coachh@hotmail.com or call 213-453-5903